

RIGHTS OF THE LABORING MAN

President Gompers Holds Up
His End at Civic Federation Meeting.

New York, April 2.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor defended the use of the boycott today before the New York council of the National Civic Federation. Addressed by Professor Frederick J. Stimson of Harvard and Professor John Bates Clark of Columbia stirred him to speak.

Professor Stimson referred to the recent proceedings against Mr. Gompers and others in Washington. "A blacklist is unlawful," he said, "but a 'whitelist,' which commends, is lawful. In the Gompers case there was a proved combination by a number of persons to influence the public not to trade with a stove company. If this announcement regarding the stove company had been printed once, it would be fair to assume it a matter of news, but printed in every number for years with the announced intention of doing so in all newspapers possible, for the purpose of coercing the stove company, most jurymen would decide that those facts showed a primary intention to molest the stove company."

Mr. Gompers said, in reply: "I am not a lawyer, and the quibblings of the lawyers as to the legality or illegality of certain acts by the labor organizations is not for me to deal with. But as to what is fundamentally right, I think I am qualified to speak. If the laws do not properly safeguard the fundamental rights of the laborer, then they should be changed. I know that labor has the right to organize to protect what it possesses, which is the power to work and to give or refuse its patronage."

CONTRACTORS IN DISAPPEARING ACT

Vonder Horst Brothers Hard to Find After Losing Big Contracts.

It is becoming more and more manifest that the Vonder Horst Brothers, contracting builders, have gone. This firm had the contract for the erection of the McIntyre-McCormick building on Main street, and the erection of the Jefferson school building. The former contract called for an expenditure of $200,000 and the latter for $71,000.

The failure of the contractors to conform to the terms of the agreements has been chronicled in these columns. Both contracts were cancelled and the bondsmen were notified that it was for them to complete the contracts. The sureties on the McCormick-McIntyre building and the Jefferson school were, respectively, Utah Savings & Trust company and Fidelity & Deposit company of Baltimore. The contract for the completion of the McCormick-McIntyre structure has been re-let to McDonald & Son. The board of education has not decided upon a contractor to take the Jefferson school job. Meanwhile, the offices at the Judge building bearing the name Vonder Horst Brothers have been closed, except at rare intervals for some days. It is said that Vonder Horst Brothers are in arrears to the building management for rental to the extent of about $200.

The offices are still furnished. Some of the furniture originally there, however, has been removed. About two weeks ago, more or less, a large consignment of furniture arrived from San Francisco in casing. This was taken away three or four nights ago. Where it was taken to is not known.

J. E. Kelley, has a key to the office and said to be cleared of the affairs of the firm as its representative. The offices are still held in the name of the Vonder Horst Brothers.

THIRTY DOLLARS AN ACRE

Price of Land on the Minidoka Irrigation Project Boosted by the Interior Department.
(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, April 2.—The secretary of the interior today announced that settlers who hereafter take up homesteads on the Minidoka irrigation project will be charged $30 per acre for water, payable in ten annual installments, and 60 cents annually additional maintenance charge. Previous settlers have been charged $22 for water. This increased charge is to be made upon future settlers, whether they take lands which have never been entered or lands covered by prior entries which have been cancelled or relinquished, and also settlers on lands now in private ownership. Future entrymen will be required to make their first annual payment of $3.00 at the time of filing their application for water rights, but where the new entryman buys out a prior entryman, and the latter has kept up his payments, the new entryman will not be required to make any back payments. The increase in charge from $22 to $30 is due to the fact that the project cost more than originally estimated, and the secretary believes this increase is just and reasonable, because future settlers will not have to undergo the privations of the first comers who went in when the country was a desert. They will have the benefit of new railroads, towns and social and financial improvements.

SALOME BARRED IN BOSTON

Sense of Propriety of the Beaneaters Shocked Beyond Measure and Protest Was Heeded.

Boston, April 2.—The opera "Salome," which the Manhattan Grand Opera company intended to present at the Boston theatre next Thursday, will not be given because of protests from Governor Draper, Mayor Hibbard, Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church, Vicar General Patterson of the Roman Catholic church, Rev. Dr. G. A. Gordon of the Congregational Trinitarian body, former Governor Curtis Guild and other leading citizens.

The clergy objected to the opera on moral grounds, and many of them consider that a presentation of "Salome" next Thursday would be a profanation of Holy week.

Mayor Hibbard notified the lessees of the Boston theatre—Frohman & Harris—today that if the Manhattan company persisted in its intention of producing "Salome," he would invoke such power as he possessed to stop the presentation.

TWO WORTHLESS CHECKS

Bring S. V. Sisam's Celebration to Ingoltrius End.

Patrolmen McCormick and Phillips yesterday arrested S. V. Sisam in Walter Jenkins' saloon, 407 West First South street, after someone had passed two worthless checks on the bartender.

Sisam is the son of Harry Sisam, owner of the West Jordan Milling company, who is reported to be worth several hundred thousand dollars. Upon his arrival in Salt Lake he proceeded to celebrate with a pal and consumed a large quantity of liquid refreshments. When arrested he told the officers that he was somewhat drunk and proceeded to try and make them believe that he was still drunk and didn't know what he was doing.

The bad checks, which he is accused of working off, called for $5 each.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32-34 Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.
